LITERARY NOTES.

The Rev. T. F. Thiselton Dyer's " Domestic Folk-Lore" is the latest volume in Cassell's popular library.

Mr. M. T. Bigelow, corrector at the University Press, Cambridge, Mass., has prepared a little manual of "Punctuation and other Typographical Mat-ters" (Lee & Shepard), for the use of printers, authors, teachers and scholars. The chapters on printing and accenting classical and modern languages are especially useful to compositors.

A paper entitled "The German Empire" will appear in the September Harper explaining the com plex functions of the German Government in its various departments. It is similar in its purpose to the articles that have already appeared in Harper on the French and English Governments, and is by Mr. Herbert Tuttle, who was appointed recently non-resident professor of International Law at Cornell University. He is the author of several interesting works relating to foreign politics.

· American "innovation" disturbs the happiness of testy English cousins, one of whom writes to The Pall Mall Gazette: "Every lover of good English is revolted by the aspect of a page of an English classic as it comes from an American press, with its honor, facor, neighbor, theater, and other kindred abominations. Why is it, then, I should like to know, that the same malpractice is to be found in existence among those who might be expected to be most fastidious in such things? If an advertising circular tells me that such and such a tradesman ' has the honor' to inform me of this or that, I am not particularly surprised, though I do not know why circulars should be worse spelled than other things. But what is surprising is that people who ought to know better-if I may judge from an accumulation of the season's cards on my table-uniformly and without exception desire the honor of my company at dinner, and request the favor of answer."

As all the world knows, Leipsic is the great book market of Germany. It retains its supremacy by the completest organization the trade has ever seen. Influences are at work, however, which, The London Bookseller thinks, will break up, eventually, this organization and introduce the English and French trade system. The present system, designed originally to benefit the provincial retailer, has now become his oppressor. "Every German bookseller of importance, be he publisher or retailer, is represented at Leipsie by an agent. Of the larger agents there are about thirty, some of whom have over 300 clients. The agents keep the stock of their publisher clients, collect and transmit the orders of the retailers, and settle the accounts of the trade by a system analogous to that which obtains in the London Bank Clearing House. Formerly by far the greater part of the whole German book trade was transacted in this way, the Leipsic agent being the connecting link between, say, the Stuttgart publisher and the Breslau retailer, and enabling the one to supply the other at a minimum of cost and time. So things went on until the great cheapening of postal communication and of transport in general which the last fifteen years have brought about." Then sprung up a class called the "Leipste undersellers" who are not without kindred in this country. They had the stock of the whole German trade at their elbow, and the provincial customer can buy more cheaply through them than through the local dealer. The bank of the trade is in Leipsic, and everything that strengthens the trade organization, improves the facilities of the "undersellers," who can scarcely be rooted out without a radical change in the present trade organ-

At the Mining Stock Exchanges the week under review was notable for a general weakness in prices that afflicted the good as well as the bad and doubtful shares. The amount of business done was only little less than the business of the preceding week, but it was marked by an exhibition of apathy which indicates that the statement of the preceding week, but it was marked by an exhibition of apathy which indicated that the market was left to the keeping of the smaller operators. The San Francisco markets were steadier, and prices were sustained at their re-cent decline, and in some instances some recoveries vere recorded: Best and Belcher from 1018 to 1158 @11, Gould and Curry from 47s to 53s@51s, and Mexican from 7¹4 to 8¹4.

Yesterday our local markets showed some improvement. Oriental and Miller recovered 10 cents to 72 cents, State Line Nos. 1 and 4 10 cents to 1, and Nos. 2 and 3 was 4 10 cents to 1, and Nos. 2 and 3 was 20 cents higher at 3.90. Consolidated Virginia was stronger and 5 cents higher at 2.10, but California declined 5 cents to 1. The Leadville shares were firm and in some cases higher: Little Pittsburg at 2.75, Little Chief at 1.40, Leadville Consolidated at 1.35, and Hibernia at 60 cents. Silver Cliff rose to 4.95@4.90. The markets closed steady.

assays very high. The incline is now 135 feet deep.

A company has been formed to develop the Beck mine, ten miles from Lexington, N. C., near the Silver Hill and Silver Valley mines. The property contains ninety-five acres, and is thought to be rich.

The Chief-Justice of New-Mexico, L. Bradford Prince, in an argument before him on demurrer to a bill in chancery involving the title of the Ortiz mine grant, on July 26 endered a decision in favor of Elias Brevoort, who claims to be the owner of the grant. The grant includes about 50,000 acres of mineral land, consisting of gold placers, copper and coal lands. The case of Brevoort agt, the New-Mexico Mining Company, Jerome B. Chaffee, S. B. Elkins and others, has been in litigation for about twelve years, and this decision is considered substantially a settlement of the title in favor of Brevoort.
